BECAUSE OUR MEMBERS MATTER

APRIL 2020

67 years ago we were founded by a group of Long Island educators.

Today, we have grown to more than 340,000 members across the nation, with an open membership to include people from all walks of life. We are financial partners, teachers, and champions of our members' futures. We remain committed to providing the best financial products and member service through the lens of financial education to everyone and anyone.

When our credit union was founded in 1952, you had to be a teacher to bank here. But today we're one of the few credit unions in the nation with an open charter for nationwide membership. It was time for our name, look and feel to better reflect our journey and where we stand today. With the new branding, logo and tagline, we want people to know that you don't need to be a teacher to experience the exceptional value of Teachers.

The "Teachers" brand name means so much to our organization. It is reflective of where we came from, but more importantly, the name "Teachers" is representative of who we want to be moving forward - your financial partners and champions. Our goal is to provide smarter financial solutions that will help you reach your financial goals.

"We're focused on bringing the best in financial wellness, products and service to the personal banking space," said President/CEO Brad Calhoun. "Teachers Federal Credit Union exists to serve everyone, and Smart For All embodies our passion for the people and communities we serve today and in the future. What started as a smart solution for teachers is now a smart solution for all."

The tagline Smart For All clearly demonstrates Teachers' pledge to provide the best financial products and member service through the lens of financial education to everyone and anyone. Members nationwide can access a variety of new services and products, including a new installment loan product designed to help people eliminate debt and start saving.

"At Teachers, we are financial partners and champions of our members' futures," said Calhoun. "Our new creative celebrates our heritage in education and reiterates that anyone can experience our exceptional value and service."

WHAT YOU CAN COUNT ON

First and foremost, the things members love about Teachers, aren't going anywhere. The products, people and services members count on are here to stay and will only get better. Member needs are at the center of our vision, and we are actively looking for ways to invest in our infrastructure, processes and people to provide a world-class member experience, at a place you still feel at home.

TEACHERS PRESENTS $10,000 IN SCHOLARSHIPS TO ST. JOHN'S UNIVERSITY

Education is part of the foundation of our organization and we were beyond thrilled to present St. John's University with the inaugural Teachers FCU Scholarship at Madison Square Garden during the last game of the Men's Basketball team's regular season.

The scholarships will empower incoming freshmen in not only their academic journeys, but their financial lives as well. The Teachers sponsored game was a blast from tip-off to the final buzzer, with t-shirt tosses, shooting contests and a Red Storm victory!

INNA SPRAGUE NAMED CHIEF EXPERIENCE OFFICER

Inna Sprague has joined Teachers as Chief Experience Officer. In this role, Sprague will look to elevate the credit union's overall member experience with a specific focus on the member journey, operations, service, sales and marketing. "Inna's passion for the credit union movement and laser focus on providing an optimal member experience makes her an incredible addition to the Teachers team," said Brad Calhoun, President/CEO.
