Exercising Your Personal Data Rights

California Consumers have the following rights under the CPRA:

- The rights to access, correct, or delete Personal Data;
- The right to obtain a portable copy of Personal Data;
- The right to limit the use of Sensitive Personal Data in certain circumstances; and
- The rights to opt out of the sharing of Personal Data for behavioral advertising, sales of personal data, or certain profiling.

If you are a California Consumer, you can submit a request to exercise your personal data rights under the CPRA by sending an email to privacy@teachersfcu.org with the subject line, "Privacy Rights Request." To protect your privacy, we may need to authenticate your identity before we respond to your rights request. We will use commercially reasonable efforts to verify your identity for this purpose. Any information you provide to authenticate your identity will only be used to process your rights request. Please be aware that we do not accept or process rights requests through other means (e.g., via fax, phone, online web chat, physical mail or social media).

After submitting your request, you will receive a follow-up email, which may include a link you must click on in order to verify your identity. If you do not click on that link, we may be unable to complete your request due to lack of verification. It is important that you provide a valid email address in order for us to be able to process your request.

We will respond to your rights request within forty five days, though in certain cases we may inform you that we will need up to another forty five days to act on your request. If we suspect fraudulent or malicious activity on or from your account, we will delay taking action on your request until we can appropriately verify your identity and the request as authentic. Please note that under some circumstances, reasonable exceptions may need to be made.

We reserve the right to decline to process, or charge a reasonable fee for, requests from a Consumer that are manifestly unfounded, excessive, or repetitive.

Limiting the Use of Sensitive Personal Data

The CPRA provides a right to limit some uses of Sensitive Personal Data. In particular, you may direct companies not to use Sensitive Personal Data except as necessary to provide goods or services you have requested.

You may submit a request to limit the use of your sensitive Personal Data by submitting a rights request as described above.

Authorized Agent Requests

The CPRA allows you to designate an authorized agent to make a rights request on your behalf. Your authorized agent may submit such a request by following the same method described above. We may require additional materials to authenticate the verification of your authorized agent (in addition to the information for verification above for Consumers and households).
